

MYTH: If I teach my children a second language early in life, they won't be able to tell the difference between the two.

FACT: True, but only for a few months.
After age 2, they can discriminate the two languages well.

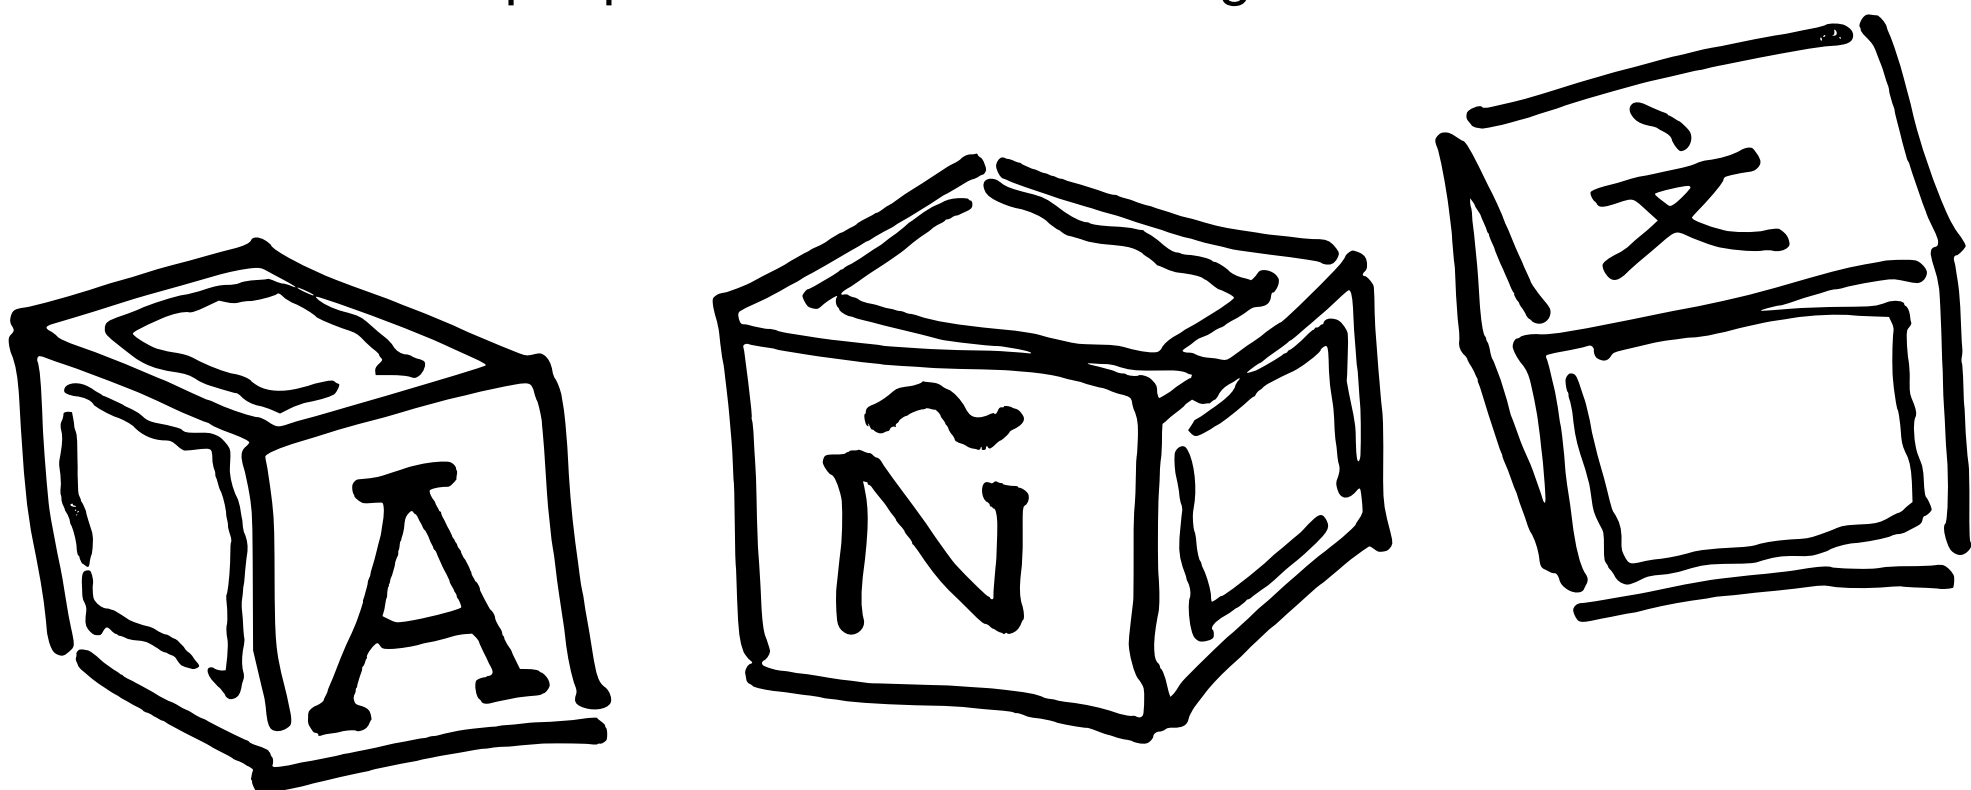

MYTH: Learning a second language is easier later in life.

FACT: Definitely not. Children are better at learning a new language than adolescents and adults.

The younger, the better. Learn before 7!

MYTH: Won't they teach a second language in school? America is, after all, the most bilingual country in the world.

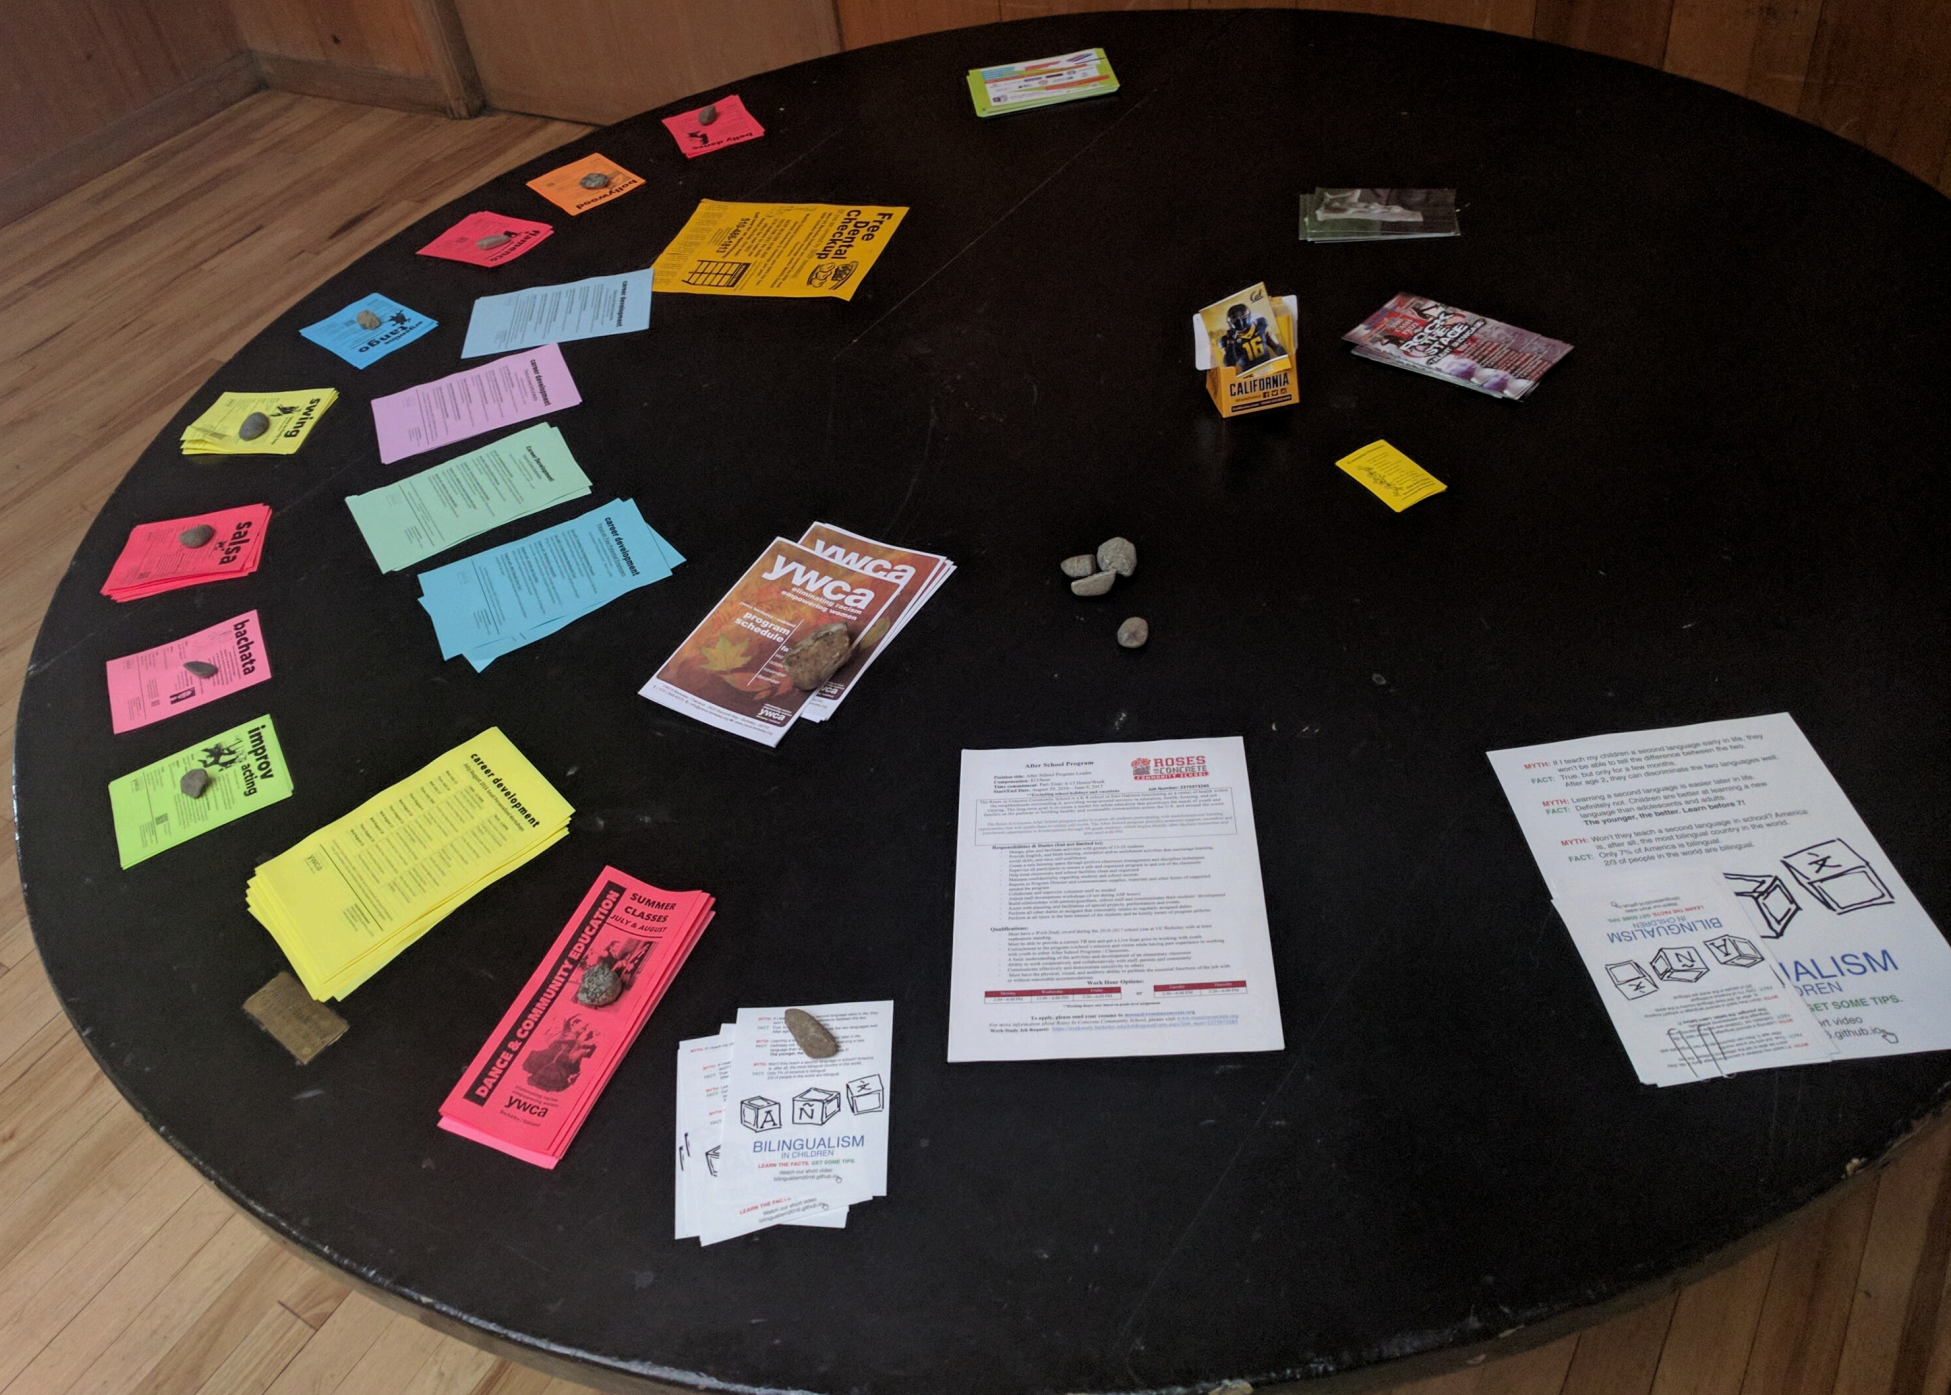

FACT: Only 7% of America is bilingual.
2/3 of people in the world are bilingual.
